Privacy Policy

This notice serves to provide visitors to this website (www.elmtranslations.com) with details of how their personal data is collected and processed. This website is managed and maintained by Emma L Morris (hereinafter referred to as “I”, “me” or “my”), trading as ELM Translations.

Personal data is information that would enable any given individual to be identified; this includes but is not limited to communication data (e.g. email address), customer data (e.g. name and billing address) and technical data (e.g. IP address). These data are collected and processed by me for the purposes of providing the services offered on my website. These data are stored on my system solely for the purpose of communicating and doing business with my customers. No personal data is used for marketing purposes, nor will any personal data be made available to third parties unless there is a legal requirement for me to do so. In the event that personal data must be shared with third parties, I require them to respect the security of any personal data shared with them and to treat it in accordance with the law. The legal grounds for me to collect and process these personal data include but aren't limited to enabling me to properly administer my business, enabling me to fulfil any contract I conclude with my customers and enabling me to communicate and liaise with my customers, suppliers and other parties. Any data collected will only be retained for as long as is necessary to fulfil the purposes for which it was collected, or as long as is required by law (in the UK, for tax purposes, this is seven (7) years). Under the General Data Protection Regulation, any one may request that their personal data is updated, corrected, deleted in part or in full, or withdraw their consent for their personal data to be collected and processed.

For further detailed information concerning all matters relating to this privacy policy, please see <https://ico.org.uk> or contact me on emma@elmtranslations.com.
